How to make a pride flag garland

Materials

colored paper, twine, double sticky tape, scissors

Step 1: Cut your paper width-wise into 2" strips. Cut your strips in half so that they are now 2" x 4.25".

Step 2: Lay out your string on the floor or a long table, and organize your paper strips into whatever color scheme you like. Cut a string was between 9 – 10 feet long.

Step 3: Put a piece of double-sticky tape on your paper strip, slide it under the string, and then fold it in half.

Step 4: Cut the bottom of your flags. You can cut them the way we show you in the picture, or into little triangles (or leave them square).
