She has been an active student leader in the Student Hispanic Dental Association serving as the organization's outreach chair and she has been a course liaison. She intends to join a private practice in Texas after graduation.

IOWA

Bryant Mitchell is an undergraduate student in chemical engineering from Houston, Texas. During his time at Iowa, Bryant has been actively involved in NSBE, the National Society of Black Engineers, and this year serves as the President of the UI chapter of NSBE. During his time as president, NSBE's membership has tripled, and they have organized numerous successful events for students to engage in social, academic, and professional development. Last summer, Bryant was a Process Safety Engineer intern at Koch Industries in Corpus Christi, Texas. When he graduates this spring, he will join Koch Industries as a full-time Process Safety Engineer

College of Law

Anelisa Gamiz Sandoval is a 3L student at the College of Law originally from Phoenix. She served as the DEI committee chair, has been president and an active member of HLLSA, and mentored law students as a Peer Career Leader. She worked to increase access to legal education for underrepresented communities through the organizations' programming and outreach efforts. Anelisa is the director of the trial advocacy board and the Senior Online editor of the Iowa Law Review. She will return to Phoenix to work as an associate at Snell & Wilmer and hopes to continue her efforts to serve her community.

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

IOWA

Michelle Yunseo Ki is pursuing her B.A. in Political Science, Ethics and Public Policy with a minor in French. Yunseo has received many academic awards including the Helen Fairall Scholarship, Political Science DEO Scholarship, Molly C. and Joseph R. Gaylord Scholarship, Dean's List, President's List, and the Old Gold Scholarship. In addition to her scholastic achievements, she works as the Basic Needs Manager of the University of Iowa, directing the Food Pantry and Clothing Closet. Her academic involvement includes serving as a research assistant, teaching assistant, lecture assistant, and peer mentor. Upon graduation, Yunseo will be attending law school.

Sophia Gluba is pursuing her B.A. in International Relations and History, with a minor in Political Science. Sophia is a multiracial student (Guyanese, India, and Irish) whose interests in politics and diplomacy have contributed to her involvement with UNICEF, Iowa Andhi, the Indian Student Alliance, and the Caribbean and South American Student Alliance. She has received the Iowa Scholars Award, the James W. Victor Scholarship, and the Sophia N. Hapke Scholarship. Following graduation, Sophia will be pursuing her MA in International Relations at Queen Mary University of London.

College of Nursing

Alyssa Nahnsen will earn a Bachelor of Science in Nursing in May 2024. A member of Young Community Nurse Clinician Program, Alyssa provided nursing care for at-risk and formerly incarcerated individuals from Iowa City Shelter House. She's the current president of Iowa Association of Nursing Students (IANS) and served twice on the IANS Board of Directors as the Legislation/Education Director for change in nursing practice and policy reform for health equity in the state of Iowa. She assisted the Iowa City Healthy Homes Initiative by sharing ways to avoid/ minimize triggers for respiratory conditions. Post-graduation: work, advanced nursing degree, health ethics/policy

College of Pharmacy

Kimberly Itzel Salazar Morales is pursuing her Doctor of Pharmacy at the University of Iowa. Originally from Guadalajara, Mexico, she currently resides in Iowa City and actively supports marginalized populations in our community. She uses her bilingual skills to mitigate barriers to care for Spanish-speaking patients and is a leader in UI-PSP, which prepares students to provide compassionate care to people with substance use disorders. Notably, she designed an e-learning module to assist faculty in creating teaching materials that develop students' skills in providing inclusive healthcare. After graduation, Kimberly will complete a pharmacy residency with the Indian Health Service.

College of Public Health

Amber Hawkins is a Master of Public Health candidate in Community and Behavioral Health who joined the CPH undergraduate program in 2018. Since then, Amber's worked with the HIV Prevention Project, UI WRAC, UI Maternal and Child Health Student Interest Group, Iowa Pride Alliance, CBHSA, and Project PEER, a sexual health and substance use prevention intervention tailored for Black HBCU students. Amber presented at the 2023 APHA Meeting on the HIV Prevention Project's recruitment strategies and results and advocated in Washington, DC for a federal funding increase for HIV prevention and treatment. Amber recently received the IPHA Emerging Leader Award.

IOWA

Tiffany Ybarra is a Ph.D. candidate in Immunology and has received the Inclusive Excellence Recruitment Fellowship & the Ballard and Seashore Dissertation Fellowship from the University of Iowa. She also received several national awards– the Autumn Immunology Conference John Wallace Diversity Award, the American Association of Immunologists (AAI) Minority Scientist Award, and the AAI Trainee Abstract and Presentation Award. Recently, Tiffany appeared in the Dare to Discover Banner Campaign. Tiffany has authored several peer-reviewed publications on her dissertation research. Following graduation, she hopes to work as a scientist in the biotechnology/pharmaceutical industry, focusing on cancer therapeutics.

Distinguished Educator Award

The Distinguished Educator Award is designed to recognize a faculty or staff member who has exemplified achievement in cultural diversity, going above and beyond to create an inclusive and positive campus climate. This award is in honor of former Assistant Provost and Director of Opportunity at Iowa, Dr. Nancy "Rusty" Barceló. Her commitment and desire to promote diversity, equity, and inclusion throughout the University of Iowa community serves as the inspiration of this award.

DR. JASPER HALEKAS

Prof. Halekas's commitment to fostering diversity, equity, and inclusion within the field of physics is evident through his inclusive teaching approach, dedicated mentorship, and active participation in programs aimed at broadening participation in STEM. By offering courses that cater to a wide range of students, from non-majors to advanced graduates. Prof. Halekas ensures that the wonders of physics are accessible to all, thereby demystifying the sciences and inviting a diverse group of students to explore these fields. His role as a mentor extends beyond traditional boundaries, welcoming everyone into his group. This inclusive approach not only enriches the learning experience for students but also cultivates an environment where diverse perspectives lead to innovative solutions in space plasma physics research. Prof. Halekas's success in guiding students to prestigious roles in NASA and industry highlights his ability to empower students from varied backgrounds to achieve their full potential. Furthermore, Prof. Halekas's involvement with the Society of Physics Students and the Iowa Space Grant Consortium underscores his dedication to supporting STEM education and professional development across a broad demographic. His efforts contribute to creating a more inclusive and equitable academic and professional landscape in the sciences. His recognition by NASA with the Exceptional Scientific Achievement Medal is a testament to his contributions not only to space plasma physics but also to building a more inclusive scientific community. Prof. Halekas's energy, enthusiasm, and clarity in teaching, as noted by his colleagues, inspire and engage students, fostering a welcoming and supportive learning environment for all.

TRIO STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES ACHIEVER AWARD

The TRIO Student Support Services Achiever Award honors one graduating senior each year. This award serves to recognize a student whose college journey exemplifies courage, determination, and perseverance in the face of challenges. While striving for academic and/or personal excellence, this student has handled obstacles with grace, exhibiting resilience and strength.

Jennifer Cano graduated from Columbus Community High School in Columbus Junction, Iowa in May 2019, and joined TRIO Student Support Services upon her enrollment at the University of Iowa in fall 2019. In December 2023, Jennifer earned Bachelor of Arts degrees in English and English Education. Throughout her college years, Jennifer demonstrated unwavering courage, determination, and perseverance. Despite facing significant challenges, including the devastating loss of her father in spring 2020, Jennifer continued to exhibit remarkable resilience and strength, both inside and outside of the classroom. During her time at Iowa, Jennifer actively contributed to her sorority, Lambda Theta Nu Sorority, Inc. and was highly engaged with the LNACC from being a Center Programming Assistant and her Student Lead role (2022-2023). Jennifer is currently teaching English and language arts as a long-term substitute at Columbus Community High School, where she will also be teaching full-time this upcoming school year as High School ELA teacher.

Diozelin (Dio) Gonzalez is from Newport Beach, CA and is graduating with a BA in Studio Art. She has played a critical part of the University of Iowa's mission to serve students in an equitable manner, particularly Indigenous and Native peoples of the Midwest. From participating in campus-wide conversations on how to support and uplift Indigenous folks with the Native American Student Association, to leading new groups of students on their transition to college as an Associate Peer Leader with Iowa Edge, Diozelin has taken many opportunities

Britney McDonald, who currently resides in Coralville, Iowa, transferred to the University of Iowa in fall 2022 and joined TRIO Student Support Services that same semester. This May, she will earn a Bachelor of Arts in social work. Britney exemplifies resilience and dedication through her remarkable character and strong commitment to her education. Throughout her college journey, Britney has successfully balanced the demanding roles of a full-time student and a full-time mom to three young children. She has also been an active member of the University of Iowa's Social Work Student Association and participated in the Women's Empowerment in the Dominican Republic study abroad program. Britney will begin working towards her MSW in social work this summer at the University of Iowa.

STUDENT LEADERSHIP AWARDS

This award recognizes individuals who have made meaningful and significant contributions to the University of Iowa or surrounding communities through their vision and action; their sense of responsibility, devotion, and diligence; and through their inspiration, good judgment, and will. Students receive a certificate designating them as a Student Leadership Award recipient.

Abby “Babyena” Christine Buffalo earned her Bachelor of Arts in Health Studies with a minor in American Sign Language. She grew up in Tama, Iowa and is a citizen of the Meskwaki Nation (Sac & Fox Tribe of the Mississippi in Iowa). Abby was the President of the Native American Student Association, served as a student liaison with the Native American Council, and led the planning and implementation of the Annual Powwow. She was a Resident Assistant for the Iowa First Nations Program, completed an internship with the Native Center for Behavioral Health, and was awarded the Department of Anthropology Native American and Indigenous Studies Prize. She was involved with Dance Marathon for four years, most recently serving as the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Director. She also worked on the Community Fridge project in Iowa City and volunteered at the UIHC Children’s Hospital. After graduation, Abby plans to become a traveling nurse to support and help Native American tribes across the country.

Deonate Craig is a student-athlete earning their undergraduate degree in Sport Studies with minors in communication and media management. Deontae was born and raised in Fort Wayne, Indiana and values family, spending time with his dog, Kobe, and building new relationships. During his time at the University of Iowa he has served as a peer mentor in the Hawkeye Development Program, regularly volunteers with Safe Haven Animal Shelter and the CommUnity Crisis Services & Food Bank. He also represented the Hawkeye's participating in the Big Ten CBS Ambassador Program to further pursue a career in sports journalism. After graduation he plans to pursue playing in the National Football League and broadcast media.

Guadalupe De La Rosa will graduate with a BA in Public Health, and a minor in Latina/o/x studies. As a research assistant in the College of Public Health, Guadalupe provides translation services for Spanish speakers to communicate with medical providers and volunteers as a student ambassador. She is a true advocate and role model leading the Latina Youth Leadership Conference (LYC), a university campus experience, sponsored by her sorority Lambda Theta Nu, Inc. for middle school and high school first generation, low income, and underrepresented Latina women in the Iowa City school district. Guadalupe works as the lead programming assistant at the Latino Native American Cultural Center where she has designed an executed LNACC in Action week activities, Latina/o/x Heritage Month, Native American Heritage month celebrations, and the Latinx Graduation Ceremony. Through her programming role, she mentors, develops, and connects others to opportunities. Guadalupe who displays a strong sense of identity and confidence with her personal and academic goals. Guadalupe always introduces herself as a daughter of Mexican immigrants living in Washington, Iowa. She is proud of her Mexican American roots. Last summer, Guadalupe completed two separate internships in Chile and Japan. After graduation, Guadalupe will pursue a Master of Public Health, policy, and law at the University of Boston.

Erin Elizalde is a graduating Biochemistry and Molecular Biology student and has served in many leadership roles at the University of Iowa. Erin grew up in Iowa City, Iowa and has stayed involved in both the local and UI communities. Erin is an Advantage Iowa scholar, undergraduate researcher, serves as an Associate Peer Leader of Iowa Edge, a student assistant in the Center for Inclusive Academic Excellence, a member of SLG, and was a founding member and current president of the Cross Cultural Student Coalition. Erin plans to pursue a career focused on health equity after their graduation.

Ignacio Gomez, a native of Chile, will graduate with a BBA in Economics, political sciences minor, and an international business certificate. He came to Iowa as a Tippie Gateway participant prior to his senior year in high school. In the time since that summer and initial fall experience, Ignacio has been giving back to the college and campus communities in vital ways. So appreciative of his experience in Gateway, BizEdge, and Direct Admit seminar, Ignacio has made the time to serve in mentoring roles for all three programs during his college years. Ignacio is a leader at promoting diversity equity & inclusion while excelling in fields such as leadership, experiential learning, and scholarship. He utilized his platform as a BizEdge mentor to promote DE&I while working on the Interfraternity Council (IFC) and participated in the President Leadership Society. Ignacio mentors' students from underrepresented backgrounds to the "Tippie" experience and helps them feel welcome. Ignacio proudly shares he was born in Chile, he is bilingual, so he can communicate with students and community people who speak Spanish and never afraid to talk about his cultural background in the classroom and outside the classroom. Through his work at The University of Iowa and in the community, he demonstrates a sincere commitment to addressing the needs and concerns of students. After graduation, he plans to secure a job in his field of Economics.

Brandon Hernandez, originally from Illinois, Brandon will be receiving a Bachelor of Science in Human Physiology with Honors, and a minor in Spanish. Throughout Brandon's time at the University of Iowa, he has had numerous roles within the Academic Support & Retention team that focused on support students academically and interpersonally. Brandon has served as a Supplemental Instruction leader, Learning Assistant, and First Gen Hawks Peer mentor. He works with students enrolled in gateway courses and then supports students through growth, academic strategies, and development of study strategies. As a first-generation college student, Brandon was part of the first cohort of the First Gen Hawks (FGH) program during 2020. He started out at as a mentee in the first FGH cohort and has been a peer mentor for the last three years. His dedication to this program and the students he has worked with has made an incredible impact. He helps each of his students navigate a challenging transition to the University of Iowa, build their support network, seek out resources, ask for help, and gain the confidence that they are resilient and can-do hard things for those from historically underrepresented identities.

Oanh Hoang Lam from Storm Lake, Iowa is graduating with a BBA in accounting and leadership studies certificate. She was a peer leader for the Iowa Edge program, a mentor in the Tippie BizEdge Mentoring Program and Gateway Summer Program. She believes in giving back with her time and intelligence. Oanh works tirelessly as an advocate for advancing women's concerns and brings awareness of important issues. She is passionate about giving back and being a strong role model for other women. What I admire the most about Oanh is her sense of identity and confidence with her academics. She always introduces herself as a first-generation college student and a daughter of immigrants. She is proud of her Vietnamese roots. She was active with the Vietnamese Student Association in the planning of the Lunar New Year celebration and with the Union of Vietnamese Student Associations of the Midwest representing the state of Iowa. She plans to continue as a tax associate with PricewaterhouseCoopers in Chicago

Julia Faith Lei Saul is graduating with a BBA in Finance, Economics, a minor in French and international Business certificate. She is a program coordinator and mentor in the Tippie BizEdge Mentoring Program. She actively supports mentees in their transition to Tippie, facilitating community, introducing students to campus resources, and delivering presentations on professional development topics, building relationships with faculty, and implementing activities and concepts that would further the development of the program. She demonstrates emotional intelligence, commitment to diversity and inclusion, a high level of cultural competency, and knowledgeable and empathetic to new student concerns. She served as director of professional development for AKsi business fraternity organizing professional trips and communicating with recruiters to provide job opportunities. After graduation, she plans to work as a rotational analyst at JP Morgan Chase Co. in Chicago

Nylah Perry is a student-athlete earning their undergraduate degree in Enterprise Leadership with a minor in communication. Nylah reigns from Sicklerville, New Jersey and values spending time with friends and family and being a beacon of positive energy to uplift others. During her time at the University of Iowa she has committed herself to uplift voices of Black female student-athletes through her role as Secretary with the Black Student Athlete Alliance, volunteering at events with the Neighborhood Centers of Johnson County and the Iowa City Homeless Project. She has also been named Big Ten All-Academic team for her work in the classroom. After graduation, this fashionista plans to pursue a master's degree in graphic design to hopefully become a product designer for Nike.
